iUniverse. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 128 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.2in. x 0.4in. History is evidence of our poor choices. Too often we have measured worth by the outward appearance and left no room to discover the beauty of the heart and spirit. We were given vision to enjoy the many faceted colors of His universe; however, we sadly used it to go as far as to judge the pigment on ones skin. There probably have been many times where we misjudged between charisma and ability. To our loss, the right choice was not made. - Dr. Robert Thomson -Dean of Students - Logos Christian College Who is to blame for this lack of faith toward greater possibilities and the idea of not having enough to give We as American, have more to give the world that the world will ever have. We are the one who have changed history. We have made some of the greatest contributions to mankind; we must rise up once again and demand greater acts of courage from our neighbors and ourselves. In its flaws and difficult past, our America is the best the world has to offer. This country and the people in it have the best of hearts. No other country offers the freedom to find God on ones own terms; no other country protects the right of minorities in a foreign land; and no other country holds greater remorse for the failures of any generation. This country is as close to heaven as man will ever come. The book dissects the past and intertwines it with the present to present a lesson for creating a better America. In effect, the book is a self-help narrative about facing our noble character and using it to make significant contribution to society. This item ships...
