The mulberry tree appears to have formed an object of cultivation at a very early period in the western parts of Asia, and in Europe. The attention there bestowed upon it must have been solely on account of its fruit; for the knowledge of the mode of rearing silk-worms was confined to the people of central and southern Asia till the sixth century. We read in the Psalms that the Almighty wrath destroyed the Vol. II. 5 mulberry-trees with frost; and this must have been recorded as a remarkable instance of the divine displeasure, for the mulberry is universally known not to put forth its buds and leaves till the season is so far advanced that, in the ordinary course of events, there is no inclement weather to be apprehended. It has therefore been called the wisest of trees; and in heraldry it is adopted as an hieroglyphic of wisdom, whose property is to speak and to do all things in opportune season. In the history of the wars of David with the Philistines, the mulberry tree is mentioned as a familiar object. Pliny says of it, somewhat questionably, that when it begins to bud, it despatches the business in one night, and that with so much force, that their breaking forth may be distinctly heard. Thunberg, an oriental traveller, tells us, which is still more extraordinary, that the sheath which encloses the flower of the talipot palm bursts with an explosion like the report of...
